COVER. Brent & Lyn Miles - January Era Picnic

Hi Folks

I trust everyone had a lovely Christmas and you are all looking forward to getting out in your Model A's for a bit of motoring and hopefully the weather will be kind to us.

We have had our first event for the year, our Era Picnic which was held at Selwyn Huts. It was pleasing to see eleven Model A's plus others in modern vehicles. There were some lovely Era Picnic settings. Thank you Graham & Anne Evans for organising some fun events, that got everyone involved.

The Club has been invited to see Daniel Smith's vehicle collection on Friday 12th February. He is hosting the Model T rally the same day, so we are all welcome. Please contact me if you haven't already done so are intending to come, as we need an idea of numbers.

Sunday 14th February is our run for the Gymkhana, starting at the Peg Hotel at Belfast at 9.30am. We are going to Andy Fox's. He has an interesting collection of vehicles and memorabilia.

Hopefully all those heading to Gisborne for the National Meet are getting their Model A's ready.

Looking forward to catching up with everyone.

Happy Motoring

Past Events— January 31st— Era Picnic 2020 Run

This event saw some motorists gather for a coffee in Lincoln prior to travelling to the picnic, while others made their way directly to the Selwyn Huts Domain.

We gathered at the north end of the domain sheltered from the North easterly behind the shelter of a macarcarpa hedge.

11 Model As and 3 moderns joined the group and set up for lunch.

Following lunch we enjoyed the completion of a few games, every one appeared to enjoy this activity.

We remained as a group in the domain until around 4pm.

Upper Selwyn Huts History

Upper Selwyn Huts History

Trout were released into the Selwyn River in 1871. In 1888 a “fishing box” was built near the mouth, several others followed suit. On 14 June 1889, W. H. Spackman, a barrister and solicitor and chairman of the Canterbury Angling Society, wrote to the Commissioner of Crown Lands seeking the lease of 20 acres of Reserve 959, along the bank of the Selwyn, as a camping ground for anglers. Fishermen were also in need of a fenced area in which to tether their horses. The Commissioner advised that area sought was under lease until 28 February 1890.

By 1890, there were eight small huts on the reserve. Between 1891 and 1895, there was ongoing discussions between the commissioner and the society on the need to permanently secure a reserve for the use of anglers. This paid off when , on 22 March 1895. Reserve 3048 was gazetted as a public recreation ground, to be known as the “Lake Ellesmere Recreation Ground” . Five acres were set aside as fishing settlement, with a balance of fifteen acres becoming public domain.

The Selwyn Hut settlement now consists of 96 batches of which nearly 100 residents call this their permanent home.

THE CONDENSER? WHAT DOES IT DO?

(Always have a spare, it really is that important) So many Model A ignition problems seem to involve that little “condenser” thing in the distributor. Ever wondered just what it actually does. You may have heard tales about this item but what does it really do? They say it protects the points, but how does it do that. That is the question! Henry placed it in the bottom of the distributor but a later replacement from the 1970's Ford V8 is mounted on the upper plate of the distributor. The function is the same. Where ever it is mounted that small cylindrical little aluminium tube thing still does its job the same way. Here is a drawing that illustrates exactly how the condenser works. This drawing actually shows the condenser mounted on the upper plate of the distributor.

When the distributor cam ( C ) rotates with the engine, the points ( B ) are switched open, breaking that current flow. The voltage across the points as they are opening is sufficient to cause arcing which damages/burns the points. Only after the points are fully open is this not an issue. As the cam ( C ) is opening the points the resistance for the current increases sharply. The current now takes the easier path ( D ), to the condenser ( E ). The condenser is designed to store a voltage charge. Thus, it accepts the current, storing the charge, preventing arcing at the points. Now as the cycle is complete for one cylinder and the cam rotation ( C ) continues, the points ( B ) close again, the condenser ( E ), being fully charged from the previous cycle, is ready to complement the next cycle of the cam ( C ). This whole process occurs in rapid succession as the engine turns and the distributor rotates, providing the high voltage from the coil to the spark plugs.

The condenser ( E ) is connected across the points ( B ). When the points are closed (shown open in drawing) the current from the coil enters at ( A/D ) through the points ( B ) to ground, thus activating the coil. The condenser is such a small little part but so very important for the life of the points and the health of the ignition system. Always use quality ignition parts. The condenser is just a small electronic shock absorber that takes a charge and holds it.

Headnut.
